Dear Parents and Carers,

The Avanti School Trust has a new Relationships and Sex Education (RSE) Policy which requires parental consultation before it is adopted by the school and delivered through the curriculum. Owing to ongoing concerns within our local area around Covid, we have felt that it is best to present the consultation briefing remotely and I have recorded a briefing that talks through the new policy. This briefing can be found under the Parents section of the school website, alongside the policy. The briefing particularly focuses on statutory and non-statutory elements within the teaching of RSE. Any parental comments and questions will be fed back to the Learning, Teaching and Standards Committee and will be responded to. Please be reassured that there will be no delivery of RSE until the consultation period ends on October 10th.

I would also like to apologise for the delay in starting the consultation period. This was initially sent out in July via Arbor but it has become apparent that the file was too big to be sent this way. This has only been recently discovered. As a result, it is now available via the website and the consultation time frame has been adjusted accordingly.

If you have any questions or comments regarding the policy, please do send them to the email addresses referenced at the end of the presentation.

Yours sincerely,

Billy Lee

Assistant Principal and Designated Safeguarding Lead
