

Focus on... Design Technology

#91

On this day...

in 1929, Herman Hollerith died of a heart attack, aged 69. He was an instructor in mechanical engineering at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Hollerith was well known for setting up an electrical Printing and Tabulating Machine in 1896.

Did you know...

Honey is bee vomit! When bees collect nectar, they drink it and keep it in their stomach.

Once they are back at the hive, they vomit out the nectar into the hive.

Go explore...

What do the following terms mean and how are can they be used in Design and Technology?

- Levers
  - Linkages
    - Sliders
      - Wheels
      - Axles

Picture this...

Here are some common embroidery stitches which are used in textiles. Can you name them?

Click to Play the Podcast

To see more from our 'Focus on...' series, visit <http://avanti.org.uk/kapsleicester/focus-on/>