Focus on… Computing

#266

On this day…

In 1910, Major H.A. 'Jimmie' Erickson took the first photos from a plane.

Did you know…

The first computers weren't very fancy. In fact, one of the first computer was an abacus, invented by Babylon in 500 BC. It was used to count and keep track of money and other things.

Go explore…

What is the difference between a software and a hardware?

Picture this…

Computers have microprocessors that can make calculations instantly. Microprocessors are found in everyday life resources.
