#276

On this day...

in 1907, the first cabs with taxi metres began operating in London.

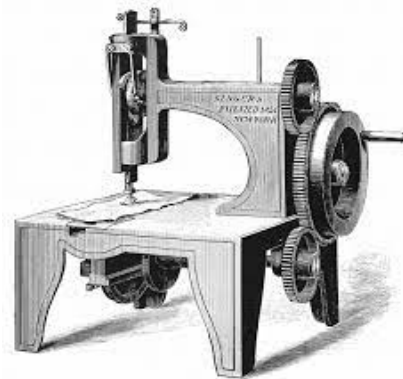

Did you know...

Dark chocolate is made from the roasted beans of the cacao tree and has many health benefits. It can improve bad cholesterol, lower blood pressure, help to reduce stress and improve vision.

Go explore...

When was the first sewing machine invented and who invented it?

Did you know...

Peaches and nectarines are essentially the same fruit. They are nearly genetically identical except for one thing: a gene that is either dominant (in peaches) or recessive (in nectarines). That is what determines whether the skin is fuzzy or smooth.
