Avanti Park School hailed by Ofsted for its outstanding provision where children flourish

Avanti Park School in Frome has been inspected by Ofsted and rated a good school with several outstanding features. Inspectors praised the school's commitment to high expectations and individualised support and commented on the rapid improvements in pupils' achievements across various areas of the curriculum.

The inspection report highlights the warm and friendly relationships which form the foundation of a calm and joyful school. Inspectors were impressed by pupils' exemplary behaviour and the fact that attendance rates have significantly improved, reflecting pupils' enjoyment and sense of safety at the school.

The principal of the school, Abby Atkins, is particularly pleased that inspectors recognised how the school's leaders have implemented substantial improvements and that pupils and parents attested to the remarkable transformation undergone by the school in recent years.

In communicating the outcome of the inspection to parents Mrs Atkins stated:

"This achievement is a testament to the hard work and dedication of our entire school community – from our exceptional teaching and support staff to our supportive parents and, of course, our wonderful pupils. I want to express my gratitude to each and every one of you for your continued support and commitment to our school's success. Together, we have created an environment where our pupils can thrive and reach their full potential."
